2 The word 'deduction' means to come to a conclusion using by inference (reading between the lines). What deduction does Darcy make after observing the following things?

Observation	Deduction
Tai hurried back up the street and ducked into a doorway. He chomped into the apple as though he hadn't eaten for a week.
Tai, busily watching television, didn't notice the manager stride over. Seeing the manager's angry frown, Darcy could guess that Tai was not welcome in the store.

3 Darcy keeps a notebook to record some of his observations. Reread the text closely and record as much detail as possible in notebook form on the back of this page.

- 1 An adverb is a word that describes how an action is completed. For example, in the sentence The boy ran quickly, ran is the verb (action) and quickly is the adverb (description). Many adverbs end in 'ly'. The following words are all used as adverbs in the text. Find them in the text, then categorise each word by writing it in the correct column below.

definite, slow (page 18)

guilty, quick, suspicious

wary, loud (page 19)

careful, frantic (page 27)

shy, most (page 31)

slight (page 17)

ily	ly	lly	iedly

- 2 There are many rules that help us spell. (It is important to remember that there are always exceptions to rules.) Write a general rule to help you remember the word endings for the adverbs above.

a An adverb ends in 'ily' if ... _____

b An adverb ends in 'ly' if ... _____ c An adverb ends in 'lly' if ... _____

d An adverb ends in 'iedly' if ... _____

- 3 Open questions often require a detailed response. Closed questions usually require a one- or two-word response. Read the following questions and shade the boxes to show the types of questions posed.

a "How do you know my name?" asked Tai suspiciously.
