Put the apostrophes in the right places. Use the book to help you.

It was the weekend, and Lilys parents were doing some work around the house.

“Im going to use some of these things
to finish my panda sculpture,”
she said to Mum and Peta.

“These pots are just the right size
to become my pandas ears!” she said.

“Ive made some sculptures of endangered animals,
so people can learn about them.
Lets find some other ways to help these animals!”

Lily couldnt settle down to sleep.
All she could think about were her sculptures,
and what might happen if she couldnt find somewhere to put them.
