

Name: _____

Road signs

Think about each of the following road signs and write down what you think it means in the caption box beneath each sign. Use the Internet to research if required.

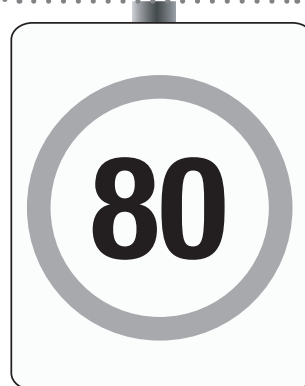

Name: _____

Consequence wheel

What if there were no computers to control traffic? Complete a consequence wheel by writing the consequences in the shapes that join to the centre. Then brainstorm each of the consequences into further sub-consequences. The wheel can continue to expand as you think of more consequences.

When you have finished begin discussing your wheels in groups of two, then four, and finally groups of six. Talk about similarities and differences in thinking.
