

Bookmarks for your enchanted reading!

Colour in and cut out these bookmarks. They will be very useful for your new spellbinding tales!

You can also create your own enchanted bookmark. Use the template below!

Dear Teacher, you could run a “Best Enchanted Bookmark” competition. The theme could be “Spellbinding Tales”. From Sleeping Beauty to Harry Potter, there is a whole world of inspiration. You could offer the winner the chance to choose an enchanted tale of his or her choice from the Scholastic Book Fair.

Find the artist in you...

Design your own enchanted book cover! If you have written an enchanted tale, illustrate your book cover based on your story. Don't forget to put a title on your book cover!

Dear Teacher, you could organise an "Enchanted Book Cover Exhibition". Choose a place near your Book Fair and put your pupils' masterpieces on display. Parents will like to see them!

If you're organising a "Reading Aloud My Enchanted Tale" evening for parents, display the children's work. It will definitely add to the enchanted atmosphere!

Create Your Own Enchanted Creature

We've seen dragons, unicorns and centaurs, along with many other enchanted creatures. Now it's your turn to create your own! Draw, name and describe your original enchanted creature in the space below.

My Enchanted Creature is a _____

Description of Your Enchanted Creature

---

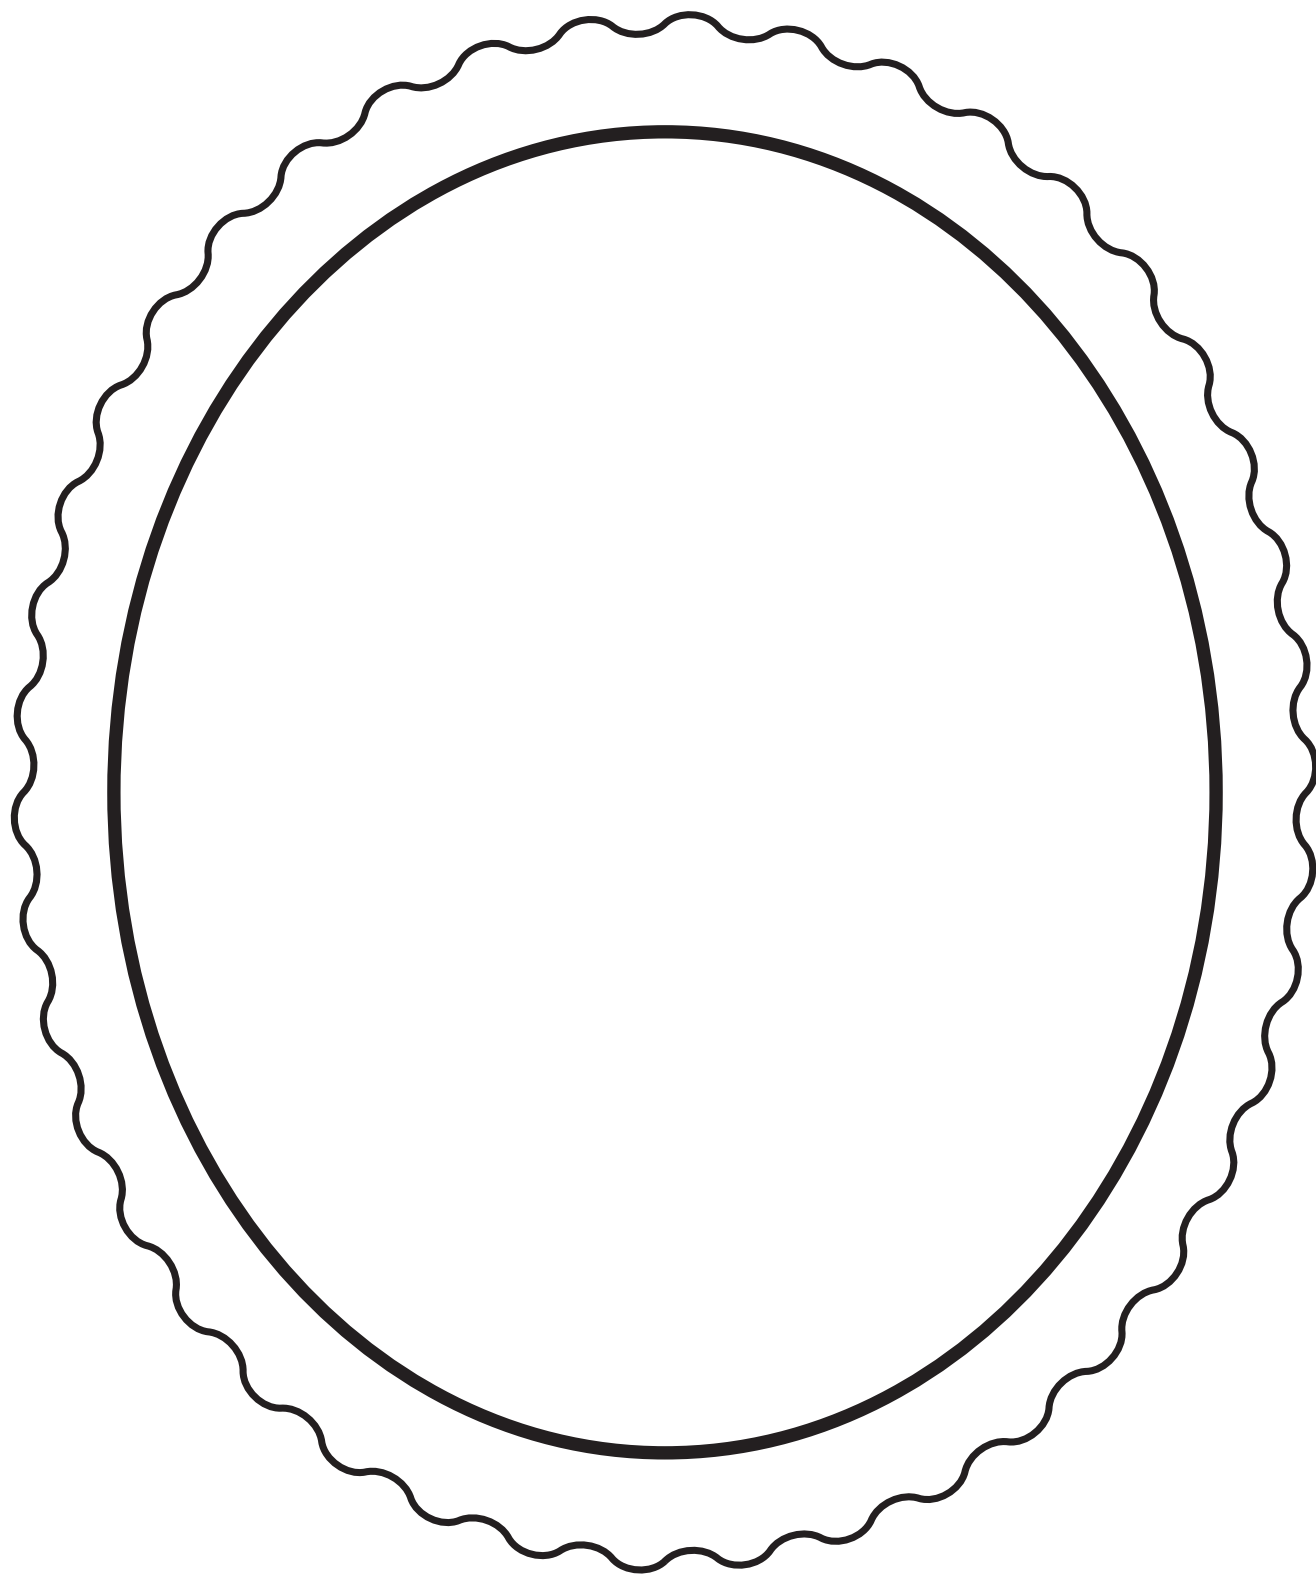

---

Dear Teacher, provide your pupils with A3 or A2 sheets of paper and ask them to draw their own enchanted creature. Use your pupils' drawings to decorate your Book Fair and add to the enchanted atmosphere! Or, you could give your pupils this template to create an "Enchanted Creature Exhibition". Display with the "Enchanted Book Cover Exhibition" if you're organising one.

Who's the fairest of them all...?

It could be you! Draw your self-portrait in the mirror below!

Dear Teacher, you could run a "Who's the fairest of them all...?" competition. After drawing their self-portraits in the mirror, children could vote for their favourite portrait.

MAZE

The unhappy princess is locked up in the highest tower of her castle and can't read any enchanted stories because the dragon stole all her books. Help the knight find his way to the dragon, steal the books from him and reach the princess in order to set her free.

Dear Teacher, you could draw a life-size maze on the playground with chalk and ask your pupils to try to find the way to the tower where the princess is locked away without waking up the dragon. Use the dressing up templates available on this website for the children to dress up as knights, princesses and dragons and let the fun begin!

Riddle Fun!

Can you guess who these enchanted characters are?

I'm ferocious; I spit fire all day,
I've locked the Princess far away,
Now I'm waiting for the Knight to come,
I'll make him my delicious dinner, yum!

Who am I?

---

I'm a hero, so brave and strong,
I'll rescue the Princess, nothing can go wrong,
I'm certain, the Dragon I will fool,
And the Princess will think, "Wow, he's so cool!"

Who am I?

I spend my days waiting for my Knight,
I know he is brave and for me he will fight,
I'm so bored; the dragon took all my books,
I don't even have a mirror to check on my looks!

Who am I?

Can you write a riddle about your favourite enchanted character or creature? Can one of your friends guess who it is?
